Comet staff report

More than 600 Family, Career and Community Leaders of America members, advisors, alumni, and guests from around Indiana gathered in Indianapolis for the 2006 Indiana FCCLA State Leadership Conference.

Carroll chapter sent five groups to compete in National Star Events competition. Indiana's theme this year was "Toward New Horizons," which is also the motto of the FCCLA organization.

During the conference, members attended several mini-sessions, general sessions, a business meeting, where Carroll's own Savannah Stevens was again elected a state officer, and a luau on opening night.

Bryan Fiese, a motivational speaker from Dallas, Texas, challenged members to head "Toward New Horizons" with Indiana FCCLA.

Carroll's 11 members, advisors Diana Alter and Cindy Reinke, and a parent, Donna Snapp, were among those attending.

Carra Snapp and Jaelyn Miller won a gold medal and the honor of competing at National Conference in Nashville, Tenn., in July. Their chapter service project was about preventing bullying.

Alternates to nationals were Britanny Reef, Robin Guise and Savannah Stevens, in Chapter Showcase project.

Also winning gold were Cally Ayres and Jason Hazel in the Chapter Service project involving the Kokomo Rescue Mission.

Winning silver were Devin Smith and Nicole Brafford in the Focus on Children project about Carroll members interacting with a preschool for children with disabilities.

Holly Lawrence won in a state project involving a presentation and construction of a childcare learning packet.

Savannah Stevens was recognized for contributing to the Power of One national project.

Carroll's chapter was recognized for contributing to state scholarships and entering national competition in Student Body and Community Service projects.

Carroll chapter was represented by voting delegate Kierstyn Harper, who interviewed and observed the 14 candidates vying for 12 state officer positions. She gave her decision on the slating of the officers at the business meeting.

Savannah Stevens was elected state vice president of community service. She was instrumental in the planning of the conference this year as state vice president of public relations, and was in charge of the opening session, along with advisor Diana Alter. Stevens was supported in her efforts by all Carroll members, and her family, Mark and Cecelia Stevens and brother Isiah were present for all sessions.

Advisor Diana Alter has put in 16 years of service to FCCLA. She was given a plaque at the advisors breakfast and recognized at the general session. She will be retiring at the end of this school year.

Family, Career and Community Leaders of America is unique among youth organizations because its programs are planned and run by members. It is the only career and technical in-school student organization with family as its central focus. Participation in state programs and chapter activities helps members become strong leaders in their families, careers and communities.

For more information about FCCLA and family and consumer sciences, contact Diana Alter at Carroll Jr.-Sr. High School or visit www.indianafccla.org.

DePauw University sophomore MEGAN L. WALTON of Delphi gained hands-on work experience while serving an internship at Dermatology of Zionsville in Zionsville during the 2006 Winter Term.

The month-long Winter Term, which takes place each January between fall and spring semesters, reflects DePauw's serious commitment to non-traditional, experiential learning. Winter Term is a time of adventurous, intellectual exploration in an atmosphere with a reduced emphasis on grades.

FAITH E. ARTHUR of Bringhurst received honorable mention for the "Outstanding Prospective Elementary School Teacher of the Year" award from Grace College for the 2005-2006 academic year. Arthur student taught kindergarten at Jefferson Elementary in Warsaw and special education at Syracuse Elementary.

Arthur was also selected for inclusion in the 2006 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. Arthur is a senior at Grace College anticipating a May 2006 graduation with a bachelor's degree in elementary education.

Two Hillcrest Elementary School students placed in a state art competition. KAYLEEN BAKER, daughter of Mark and Marsha Baker and KATE LAYMAN, daughter of Jim and Sally Layman were selected to have their art displayed at Riley Hospital for Children.

The Indiana Association of School Principals, Department of Student Programs sponsored the sixth annual art contest for students in grades K-12. Accompanying each entry, the student was required to write a 100-word narrative explaining how the arts can bring a smile to those viewing artwork, as well as the role the arts play in his or her life. A June reception is planned for the selected artists.

David and Susan Maxwell of Delphi will host a JAPANESE FOREIGN EXCHANGE STUDENT for the 2006 academic year. Masako Kai, a Youth For Understanding USA participant, will attend Delphi Community High School. She will learn about American culture while she shares the culture of Japan with her host family and classmates.

Musical to be presented

Master's Voice Players Drama Club will present the musical, "Penny and the Magic Medallion," on Friday night at the Wabash & Erie Canal Interpretive Center, Delphi. ## Visiting Farmer Kremer

Hillcrest kindergartners learned their lessons at a field trip to Kevin Kremer's farm on Carrollton Road. Donna Newell and Ruth Van Matre's classes visited the farrowing barn. They learned about the special care given to the piglets and about the stages of growth. Students took a hayride to the pastures, where they met the cows and new calves. Kindergartners take the trip annually to supplement lessons about Spring, nutrition and farm animals. Photo provided
