L O R I MCGINNIS BRUNS of Westfield, formerly of Flora, earned her Master's degree in English in May from IUPUI, where she was a member of the Golden Key International Honour Society. She earned her Bachelor's degree in English from there in 2002.

Bruns

Bruns is employed at IUPUI as an associate faculty for the ESL (English as a Second Language) Department. In August she was an invited speaker at the English for Specific Purposes Institute at IUPUI.

A 1987 graduate of Carroll Jr.-Sr. High School, she is the daughter of Linda and Max Thompson of Cutler.

Purdue University's entire staff of newly hired and returning residence hall assistants started the semester by volunteering at nonprofit organizations in the community.

"Extreme Makeover: Community Edition" sent more than 270 resident assistants to 14 agencies to complete tasks such as cleaning, landscaping, food distribution, organizing donated goods and mending literacy training books.

Two women from this area are among the 270 resident assistants. They are: JULIE REPLOGLÉ of Delphi, who is majoring in elementary education, and JANICE WOODRUFF of Rossville, who is majoring in LA/ Speech, Language & Hearing Sciences.

Resident assistants are degree-seeking students who are at least 21 years old. They are part-time employees of the university and receive free room and board, partial tuition remission and a stipend. Resident assistants serve as role models to residents and provide counseling and counseling referrals. Assistants help ensure that residents adhere to university rules and policies and also are expected to develop a sense of community and foster leadership skills.

The volunteer part of the assistants' training is expected to serve as a model that the assistants can implement as they develop activities and educational programs for the on-campus residents they serve and supervise.

W I L L ABDON will be cooking for the PGA Classic Golf Tour in Pittsburgh, Pa. Sept. 14-17. He is a student at the Pennsylvania Culinary Institute in Pittsburgh. A 2006 graduate of Carroll Jr.-Sr. High School, he is the son of Doug and Felicia Abdon of Flora.

Abdon

WINTER JOHNSTON of Camden and SHAWNNA ROACH and NATHAN STANLEY, both of Delphi, are among the 338 students invited to join the Purdue "All-American" Marching Band for the 2006 season.

New director Jay S. Gephart said that in Ross-Ade, "the traditional pre-game will feature the return of the Big 10 Flags and the 'Hail Locomotive' moving down the field." They will take their place with the band's other famous traditions - the Block P, "I Am An American," and the Floating Purdue.

Southern Oblivion is feature at Coffee Beat

Brothers Rick and Dennis Alexander, along with Ben Flora and Aaron Walker, combine their talents to create the rock and blues sound of Southern Oblivion.

Bound by love and respect for the music of the Beatles and Bob Dylan, and the blues and folk that inspired them, Southern Oblivion plays a wide variety of music ranging from Robert Johnson blues through the 1960s psychedelic and other classic rock.

Accomplished musicians, the Alexander brothers add a whole new dimension to the bands' guitar-based sound, with Dennis on bass and mandolin and Rick on solos and harmonica.

The band will be featured at Delphi Public Library's Coffee Beat on Sept. 16 at 7 p.m. Coffee and music are free and desserts are available. Enter the library at the Indiana Street entrance. The band will be performing on the third floor mezzanine. For additional information, call (765) 564-2929.
