10 YEARS AGO

Camden Lions are gearing up for the 47th Annual Tractor Pull & Fun Fest this weekend.

The Friday pull is open to anyone with a tractor meeting the established guidelines. Many will return on Saturday for additional competition in an invitational pull. The 17th annual Antique Tractor Pull will be Saturday morning.

The Deer Creek Festival and Hog Roast will be Saturday at the Community Center.

The public may view the DCHS mural painted by Mike Floyd at an open house being held in conjunction with Meet Your Teacher Night. The artist, who lives in northern Carroll county, spent nearly 300 hours on the mural.

25 YEARS AGO

It was a happy day for the more than 200 individuals attending the groundbreaking ceremonies held at the Carroll High School site which initiated the long awaited elementary and Jr. High building project.

The project would provide an expanded media center, industrial art area and classrooms to complete a Jr. High wing. The outdoors sports facilities including tennis courts, football field, baseball diamond and all-weather track will be completed for use by the fall of 1983, along with the wing. The elementary school will not be ready for occupation until the fall of 1984.

50 YEARS AGO

The Herman Neff, Sr., family of Flora, grows champignons. For the second year a Neff boy flashed first over the finish line in the annual Soap Box Derby. Last year it was Herman Jr., who won the honors that were this year gained by his younger brother, Myron.

The winning racer was light blue with a strip of natural wood around its mid-section, carrying the phrase "In God
