Carroll school enrollment down

By Jennifer Archibald
Staff writer

Superintendent John Sayers announced enrollment figures at a regular Carroll School Board meeting Sept. 18.

He said on official enrollment day, Sept. 14, the count was 1,113, down 10.5 from last year. Kindergarten students count half. He said there are 66 students in this year's kindergarten class. The corporation's enrollment includes Carroll students who go to school at Delphi, Twin Lakes, and Logansport.

The board officially adopted the 2008 budget, Capital Projects Plan, and Bus Replacement Plan.

The superintendent announced the resignation of Rick George, head football coach at Carroll Jr.-Sr. High School, and the hiring of Angie Veach as part-time technology coordinator and Bill Dillon as junior varsity baseball coach. Sayers said Veach is finishing up her bachelor's degree and will work full-time after December.

Athletic Boosters announced that Athletic Boosters will donate a John Deere Gator to the school corporation for use at athletic events, etc.

A cash tuition request from Darin Nelson for his daughter, Allison, to attend Carroll was approved. She also attended Carroll last year.

Delphi adopts personnel policy

By Debbie Lowe
Staff writer

The contentious subject of an update to the city of Delphi's personnel policy manual was settled quickly, without fanfare, at last Wednesday evening's board of works meeting. Because the policies were not completed at the last city council meeting, council member and mayoral hopeful Randy Strasser would not support the adoption of the 2008 budget at the meeting.

"Keep in mind, this is a working document," Delphi Mayor Lee Hoard said as board of works members Carolyn Pearson and William Miller voted unanimously to approve the policy.

Pearson noted there were ty-graphical errors that needed to be corrected. Hoard said city attorney Miriam Robeson would make those corrections and any others needed before the final document was signed by Pearson and Miller.

"I don't expect there to be significant changes made to the policy right now," Pearson told the Comet Thursday. "However, if there are, we will need to approve modifications."

The policies were effective Sept. 18.

Other business

Delphi High School senior Kyle Bender received permission to pursue a graffiti clean-up effort in Delphi. He said students would volunteer to paint out the vandalism on private property with donated paint. Bender explained he is an intern with the law firm of Emerson and Manahan this semester. As part of his internship, he penned a liability-release form for property owners to be used with the project.

"I would be very much in favor of this project," Hoard said. Hoard said the city would assist with the community project as needed.

The next board of works meeting will be Oct. 1 at 6:30 p.m. just prior to the city council meeting at 7.

from October through April.

Maintenance superintendent Tom Allbaugh said the pool renovation is coming along, and hopefully will be completed by swim season. Work is also progressing on the concession stand.

The next board meeting will be Oct. 2 at 7:30 p.m. at the Administration Building.

Digdy House
Finding the right care facility takes time. It is important to search for a suitable home well in advance of seeking admission to the facility. Planning ahead also makes the transition of moving into a care facility much easier. Digdy House, located at 167 W. Co. Road 240 South in Lafayette, phone (765) 471-8552, offers care to the people who cannot be cared for at home. They provide excellent nursing care, rehabilitation services, meals and activities to help with daily living and supervision, as well as short-term programming. They encourage residents to stay active and to participate in a variety of community services and social activities. They offer 24-hour guidance by a qualified, compassionate staff. Their staff oversees the administration of medication and insures the health and safety of the residents. Safety concerns are also addressed with up-to-date fire and smoke alarms, as well as an emergency call system.
As you and your family assess your needs, it's important to acknowledge financing options. Payment for care can be made through private insurance and private pay.
We, the editors of this 2007 Fall Local Business Update, give our unconditional recommendation to Digdy House for providing compassionate care in a home like setting. They invite you to stop by their fine facility for more information or a tour.
