Flora-Monroe Township

The student work throughout the library was created in the after-school art enrichment classes at Carroll Elementary School. The Beta Alpha Chapter of Psi Iota Xi and the Gifted and Talented Program support the sessions so that any CES student may have six free lessons with materials provided. Over 200 students participate in the program.

The students are introduced to various artists, styles, and methods of creating art and gain experience with different media.

The first grade works are displayed in the Richter Program Room. The artists made simple line drawings then did more advanced drawings of chickens. They made seascape prints, explored splatter painting in the style of Jackson Pollack, and learned about shapes in art making, ice cream cones that showed spheres, cones and overlapping shapes.

Finally, they mastered spatial concepts with penguins, learning how to show distance using size and space. The first grade exhibit will be displayed through November.

The next preschool story-time theme is "Children's Book Week." Celebrate this special week at the library. Grab a good book and read with us! Storytime is Tuesday mornings, at 10 a.m.

Dial-a-Story is available 24 hours a day. Currently playing is James Whitcomb Riley's "The Farmer Who Found Happiness." On Friday the new story will be "The Country Cat." Call Dial-a-Story, 967-3814.

Coffee Beat - Steven Hill

Comet staff report

Delphi Public Library's upcoming Coffee Beat will feature the music of Steven Hill, a talented artist with versatility and songwriting finesse. Described as a mix of James Taylor, The Beatles and Bruce Springsteen, Hill infuses these influences with a captivating sound all his own. The fabric of his tunes is interwoven with clever lyrics and an acoustic guitar style worthy of his own brand.

An Indiana native, Hill performs throughout the Midwest with a four-piece band and is also booked as an acoustic, solo performer. Audiences usually comment on his fun wit and easy going style.

The Saturday evening show begins at 7. There is no admission charge and coffee is free. Guests should enter the library through the Indiana Street entrance and the program will be held on the 3rd floor mezzanine.

For information call the library at (765) 564-2929.
