Rossville youth earns Eagle Scout rank

Comet staff report

Dane Snyder completed his Eagle Board of Review and has earned the rank of Eagle Scout. He expects to hold his Eagle Court of Honor in early 2009.
 Snyder has been a member of Rossville's Troop 337 throughout his entire scouting career. His Eagle project included the design and completion of an analemmatic sundial at Camp Cullom's Prairie Grass Observatory in 2008. He spent over 100 nights camping with his troop and is a veteran of two high adventure trips to the Boundary Waters in northern Minnesota. He assisted his troop by holding a variety of leadership positions that included assistant senior patrol leader, troop guide, and patrol leader. He also has participated in "Scouting for Food" and standard service projects involving the troop, as well as a variety of eagle projects over the past five years.

 Snyder was previously a Cub Scout in Rossville's Pack 337 where he earned his Arrow of Light.

Boy Scouts

Rossville Troop 337

Dane Snyder of Troop 337, Rossville, recently led his troop through the completion of an analemmatic sundial at Camp Cullom's Prairie Grass Observatory (PGO). The sundial itself was created in a 13-foot x 20-foot section of the Observatory. PGO visitors using the sundial on sunny days are required to stand on a block representing a particular month and then read the time of day based upon where their shadow is cast. The sundial attempts to deliver both normal and daylight saving's time readings.
 A chart associated with the sundial was created by Snyder and is mounted on a building beside the sundial so that visitors can "correct" the time based upon the analemma associated with each month.
 Snyder and 12 of his fellow troop members put in over 250 man hours in the creation of the sundial which is comprised of concrete blocks anchored and set in a grassy area of the observatory. Observatory volunteers Russ Kaspar, John Mahoney, and Hoppy Bray all provided detailed insights and assisted in the completion of the project.

Completes Eagle project

Nick Grady of Rossville Boy Scout Troop 337 has completed an Eagle Scout project that required his fellow scouts to clean tombstones at Zion Cemetery near Monitor in Tippecanoe County. Under the scrutiny of Lou Ann Clugh, Grady assembled necessary cleaning equipment and 10 fellow troop members at the cemetery. After a brief instruction and training session, the scouts set to work removing mold and the discoloration from tombstones belonging to United States war veterans.
 A "before" picture was taken of each tombstone. After the tombstones were cleaned another picture was taken to show the improvements made. The resulting pictures are to be placed on the web to assist others in tracing genealogy.

The troop managed to find 38 out of the 40 veterans' tombstones expected to be located within the cemetery.

KILE Supreme Champion Gilt

For the second year in a row Keegan Sheiss of Bringhurst exhibited the Champion Yorkshire and Supreme Champion Gilt overall breeds at the Keystone International Livestock Exposition (KILE) held in Harrisburg, Pa. Keegan also earned Reserve Champion Duroc gilt honors while his sister, Madeline, showed the Reserve Champion Yorkshire. At the National Junior Swine Association's (NJS) Eastern Regional Show, held in conjunction with KILE, Madeline earned Reserve Champion Yorkshire Gilt honors, was sixth in novice showmanship and third in the sweepstakes competition. Keegan's Yorkshire gilt was a class winner in the NJS show and he placed tenth in the novice sweepstakes competition. Keegan and Madeline are pictured with his KILE Supreme Champion gilt "Big Sweetie," along with his parents, Eric and Darice Sheiss, left, and show judge Steve Nichols, right. Photo provided

Flora-Monroe Twp.

The library is closed on Dec. 31 and Jan. 1 in observance of the New Year's Day holiday.
 Sadly, we say goodbye to circulation clerk Nancy Sweat, who is retiring at the end of this year. Library staff and patrons will miss her particular brand of customer service and professionalism. In addition to her desk duties, she made it a personal mission to maintain and update the various book displays and author profiles throughout the library. Her last day was Dec. 30.
