Two Delphi students, both freshmen, have been named to the dean's list at Wabash College, Crawfordsville, for the fall 2008 semester. They are: KYLE BENDER, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Bender, and SHANE EVANS, son of Mr. and Mrs. Shawn Evans.

Oracles

The young Oracles would fight back, going on a 22-10 run of their own that started with consecutive baskets from Hawn (one trey) and ended with back-to-back three-pointers from Cripe and Salyer to close to within 59-44 with 3:00 left in the quarter.

But the Hornets would respond with three straight three-pointers to close the quarter with a 9-0 run and a 68-44 lead en route to the final margin of victory.

Hawn led Delphi with 20 points, followed by Salyer with 14. Cripe and Paul Zink added seven apiece, while Kris Bender scored four, Justin Snider three and Jo Britt two.

Rossville had four players in double-figures led by Aaron Martin's double-double of 20 points and 10 rebounds, and crafty point guard Kendall Sadler's 20 points. Travis Perkins added 13 points and Ben Ummel had 12.

Vs. Northwestern

The excitement and anticipation surrounding the return of junior guard Justin Snider to the line-up was not enough for the Oracles to overcome the Wildcats on Friday night.

Northwestern head coach Jim Gish, a Carroll High School graduate, beat Delphi for the fourth straight time using two threes to jump to an 8-0 lead in the first 1:28 of the game and force an early timeout.

Delphi scored the next five points after an old-fashioned three-point play from Hawn and a basket from Salyer. They trailed 12-7 after a Bender bucket with 3:50 left before a 26-9 run over the next 13 minutes of the game put the Tigers up 36-16 at the half. A Hawn three-pointer with 1:10 into the third quarter put an end to the sluggish streak for the Oracles, now trailing 38-19.

Delphi outscored Northwestern 22-20 the rest of the way, but could not overcome a season-low 1-of-15 (.067 percent) shooting performance from beyond the arc and a season second-worst .333 percent (15-of-45) overall from the field against the Tigers.

Hawn led the Oracles with 12 points, followed by Bender with eight, Cripe with six, Jordan Wagner and Matt Brown with five apiece, Salyer with four and Snider with one.

Zech Sanders led the Tigers with 18 points, while Brayden Merrell added 11.

Delphi (1-8) will travel to Chalmers this weekend to face Frontier in the White County Tournament Friday night at 8 p.m., following the Tri-County-North White matchup in the opening round starting at 6:30. The consolation game will be on Saturday at 6:30 p.m., with the championship contest scheduled for tip-off at 8. The Oracles lost to the Falcons 63-49 at home on Dec. 6 to set the stage for the tourney rematch. Junior Varsity drops a pair Delphi's JV lost two tough contests over the weekend, 39-36 against Rossville and 53-38 vs. Northwestern.

The Rossville contest was in doubt until the final buzzer as Delphi's final three-point attempt rattled the rim and fell out to allow the Hornets to hold on for the win.

Brown led all scorers with 17 points, while Benoit Goffard added six, Tyler Smith had four and a game-high five assists, Cole Whitaker had three points and Karson Bender, Ethan Ross and Zach Condon each had two.

Matt Ummel led the Hornets with 15 points, with Justin Warren adding 10.

Against NW, the Tigers used a 31-13 rebounding advantage and committed only 8 turnovers to defeat Delphi.

Smith led the Oracles with 12 points, followed by Brown's 10, Condon's six, Wagner and Whitaker with four apiece and Bender with two.

The Delphi JV (3-6) will host its own White County Tournament with first-round action starting at 6 p.m. on Monday at DCHS, with the consolation and championship games slated for Tuesday, also starting at 6 p.m. at DCHS.

Battleground storyteller Doyne Carson has been telling stories for 22 years. She will relate a story through the voice of Abigail Gollaher, a childhood friend of Abraham Lincoln Jan. 20 at 7 p.m. Carson as Abigail will recount the childhood adventures of her brother Austin and his best friend Lincoln. The story is based on actual events from the life of Lincoln.

Indiana author Barb Shoup will present "Writing and the Creative Process" Jan. 28 at 7 p.m. Participants who are considering their first novel, are the family historian or keep a daily journal will be offered ideas about how to spark the creative fire.

"I wanted to be a writer from the time I understood what a book was," Carson said. "As soon as I learned the alphabet, I began to write stories in a special blue notebook. I was eleven when I attempted my first novel."

Fueled by the early passion, Shoup authored five novels.

She received the Best Books for Young Adults designation, International Reading Association Young Adult Choice, Great Lakes Book Award finalist and the Eliot Rosewater nomination for her writing.

Artist Mary Firestone will teach a free Ceramic Workshop on Jan. 31. at Riley Park Boy Scout Cabin from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. $5 for kiln firing is required.

Call the library at (765) 564-2929 to register and for information.

Flora-Monroe Twp.

It's that time of year when the library needs to make room for new periodicals. Free magazines are available in a variety of titles that will appeal to just about everyone. There is no limit in how many you take; the magazines are on the main level of the library while supplies last.

A new art exhibit is displayed on the main floor of the library. Usually seen ornamenting barns, homes and garages, wind vanes are working pieces of beautiful art. They are still useful to sailors, farmers, pilots or anyone whose activity is affected by the wind.

The third grade art enrichment class from Carroll Elementary has designed their own working wind vanes. The wind vanes are for indoors only and catch the whimsy of early artists, making art out of useful objects. Art enrichment is taught by Grace Woodruff.

The library's book club will discuss the highly acclaimed novel, "Water for Elephants" by Sara Gruen during its next meeting on Jan. 21. The group meets at the Flora Senior Center at 10 a.m. All ages are welcome. Extra copies of the book are available for checkout.

The theme for next storytime is "Penguins." The best dressed animals in the world are penguins! Visit the South Pole for some icy cold fun! Storytime is Tuesday morning at 10 a.m.

Deep and Simple kicks off '09 Coffee Beat

Deep and Simple with Joe Peters will perform at the Jan. 17 Coffee Beat at 7 p.m. Joe settled in West Lafayette in 2006 after living in Southeast Asia for ten years. He plays original contemporary folk songs about domestic and international war, peace, love, hate, farmers and city dwellers on the guitar. The public is invited for an evening of great music and message. Coffee and music are free, desserts are available for a fee. Guests should enter the library from Indiana St. Photo provided

Local sorority offers scholarships

Comet staff report

Delta Theta Chi Sorority, a national non-collegiate educational sorority, is accepting applications for several scholarships.

Deadline to apply for three national scholarships, two in the amount of $3,500 each and one in the amount of $1,800, is Feb. 1. Requirements call for a high scholastic average, evidence of financial need, currently enrolled or planning to enroll in an accredited college, and an application form, with attachments as specified by the sorority's National Executive Council. Winning applicants will be notified by May.

For applications, contact the Delphi or Carroll guidance departments. Applications must be submitted to Delta Theta Chi Sorority, Gamma Chapter, Charlene Davis, 312 E. Main St., Flora, IN 46929, phone (574) 967-4202.

Local scholarships

The local Delta Theta Chi Sorority is offering $300 scholarships to a student at both Carroll and Delphi Community high schools. The scholarships will be awarded to liberal arts majors that include English, arts, humanities, languages, history, journalism, sociology, psychology, music, political science, geography, economics, creative studies, and oral communications.

Deadline to apply for the local scholarships is March 21. For an application, visit the school guidance office or contact Davis.

Important meeting set for Carroll 8th graders

Carroll Jr.-Sr. High School Guidance Department will host an informational meeting for all current eighth grade students and their parents on Tuesday, Jan. 20, at 7 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The meeting is entitled "Everything You Wanted to Know About High School" - an orientation for the Class of 2013. Information concerning graduation requirements, four-year plans and other expectations for students will be discussed.

All students and their parents in the Class of 2013 should plan to attend this program.

For more information, call the Carroll Guidance Department at (574) 967-3000.
