

Canal warehouse

The canal association's replica canal boat, expected to arrive in May, will be housed in this warehouse. It is located at the edge of the canal park annex, Delphi. At left, with overhang, is the dock. The three doorways will have full mural paintings that illustrate loading of a canal boat indoors as one might have experienced in 1850. Photo provided

This "slip" (dry today because the canal was drained) inside the warehouse will safely store the new boat. It will allow raising the boat above the water level in winter to protect the hull from ice damage. Photo provided
