

Children in First Step Preschool at the Flora First Brethren Church have been learning about the Rainforest. They decorated their classroom as a Rainforest and learned about the animals that occupy the Rainforest. As part of the unit, preschool director/teacher Linda Isaacs and assistant, Jane Edging, invited the Columbian Park Zoo education department to bring some examples of animals that live in the Rainforest. Education assistant Noah Shields is pictured holding a cockatoo named Roxie. Another photo shows a sloth named Gage being petted by Braxton Boyles as the teacher and zoo educator supervise. Shields also brought a tortoise, boa constrictor, and tree frog. Comet photos by Jennifer Archibald

Milt Hess Physician Service

Milt Hess knows that patient satisfaction begins with having top-quality, caring physicians. He works with our current medical staff and new prospects with that in mind. "I believe that my role as the physician recruiter is the first piece of the patient satisfaction puzzle. My goal is to find excellent physicians who are a good fit for our community and will serve our patients a long time."
